

Code of Conduct

Superlit Boru San. A.Ş. – Istanbul Headquarter
Cumhuriyet Cad. No 155/3 Harbiye 34367 İSTANBUL / Türkiye
Phone: +90 (212) 315 31 31, Fax: +90 (212) 231 49 51, e-mail: kalite@superlit.com

www.superlit.com

CONTENTS

Introduction.....2

Principle 1: Honesty, Integrity and Fair Play.....2

Principle 2: Equal Opportunity for All Employees2

Principle 3: Safety, and Health Practices2

Principle 4: Antitrust and Competition2

Principle 5: Governance and anti-corruption3

Principle 6: Financial Reporting3

Principle 7: Restrictive Agreements with Third Parties3

Principle 8: Government Contracts and Services.....4

Principle 9: Acceptance of Advantages.....4

Principle 10: Contact of Interest4

Principle 11: Misuse of Official Position5

Principle 12: Handling of Classified or Proprietary Information5

Principle 13: Property of the Company5

Principle 14: Outside Employment5

Principle 15: Compliance with the Code5

Principle 16: Sanctions.....6

Principle 17: Reporting.....6

Principle 18: Ethics officer6

Principle 19: Occupational Health and Safety.....7

Principle 20: Environmental protection.....7

Appendix 1: Definition of Advantage and examples of prohibitions8

Introduction

SUPERLIT conducts its business in a framework of relevant laws, regulations and internal policies and our Code of Conduct contains principles, fundamental rules and core values which form our corporate actions. This Code of Conduct describes the behaviour we expect of our personnel, as well as the way we conduct our business with our partners and third parties.

Principle 1: Honesty, Integrity and Fair Play

SUPERLIT and its staff are fully committed to principle of honesty, integrity and fair play in the delivery of services and goods to the public. All staff ensure that the business operations, applications for services, procurement or staff recruitment, dealt with in an open, fair and impartial manner.

This Code of Conduct sets out the basic standard of conduct expected of all staff and the SUPERLIT's policy on matters like acceptance of advantages and contact of interest of staff in connection with their official duties.

Principle 2: Equal Opportunity for All Employees

SUPERLIT is an equal employment opportunity employer. Employment opportunities are available regardless of race, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, disability or other legally protected status. This Principle applies to all aspects of the employment relationship, including recruiting, hiring, training, work assignment, promotion, transfer, termination, and wage and salary administration.

Principle 3: Safety, and Health Practices

SUPERLIT is committed to an injury-free and illness-free workplace that is operated in an environmentally sound manner in compliance with all relevant laws and regulations that protect worker safety and the environment. Employees perform work in a safe manner.

Principle 4: Fair Competition

SUPERLIT's policy will prohibit any anticompetitive practices which could effect in bounding, restraining or distorting competition, as well as any practices of an unfair competition. Accordingly, our employees cannot agree (formally or informally) with competitors to fix prices or any other conditions of transaction; to limit or control the production, commercialization, technical development or investment; to manipulate or divide markets or sources of provisioning; to participate with fake offers in tenders or any other forms of competitions for offers; to limit or restrain access to market and freedom of competition for other enterprises; to apply unequal conditions for equivalent performance to commercial partners, creating in this way a disadvantage in competition; to condition signing of acceptancy contracts by the partners for supplementary obligations which, by their nature or according to commercial usage, have no connection with the subject of such contracts.

Our employees are prohibited from performing any act of unfair competition manifested through: misappropriating clients of a company by using the relations established with such clients within the function previously held at the company, dismissal or attracting employees of a company for the purpose of setting up a competing company to capture customers of that company or hiring employees of a company in order to disorganize of its work. At the same time, our employees do not take actions that harm the legitimate interests of consumers or other operations in breach of the competition law.

Principle 5: Governance and anti-corruption

SUPERLIT has zero tolerance for corruption. Our employees never offer to provide anything of value directly or indirectly to government officials and business partners to secure an undue advantage. SUPERLIT prohibits payment, offers of payment as well as anything of value directly or indirectly with the purpose of influencing or obtaining undue business or personal advantage.

Third parties will only be contracted to perform tasks which aid business interests provided: fees to be paid are reasonable; all arrangements are clearly documented; arrangements are in compliance with SUPERLIT's policies.

Principle 6: Financial Reporting

All transactions of SUPERLIT are duly recorded so as to permit preparation of clear financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. No false or misleading entries may be made in the books and records of the SUPERLIT for any reason, and no employee may engage in any arrangement that results in such a prohibited act.

No undisclosed or unrecorded fund or asset of SUPERLIT may be established for any purpose. No payment on behalf of SUPERLIT may be done without adequate supporting documentation or made with the intention or understanding that any part of such payment is to be used for any purpose other than as described by the documents supporting the payment.

From time to time, the SUPERLIT may publish or inform of policies on financial reporting, disclosure and compliance to reinforce the financial reporting expectations in this Code. All employees at any level are expected to implement and strictly follow these policies.

Principle 7: Restrictive Agreements with Third Parties

SUPERLIT do not condone activities that seek to gain an unfair competitive advantage. No individual may engage in any activity which violates any valid restrictive agreements entered into by that individual for the benefit of a third party, and no individual may, directly or indirectly, use or disclose any confidential information or trade secrets of a third party that the individual obtained while employed by or associated with such third party.

Principle 8: Government Contracts and Services

SUPERLIT is committed to complying with all applicable laws and regulations relating to government (public procurement) contracts and services and to ensuring that its reports, certifications and declarations to government officials are accurate and complete and that any deviations from contract requirements are properly approved.

Principle 9: Acceptance of Advantages

It is the policy of SUPERLIT to prohibit all staff from soliciting or accepting any advantage from any persons having business dealings with the Company (e.g. clients, suppliers, contractors). Employees who wish to accept any advantage from such persons should seek advice and permission from the responsible ethics officer.

Any gifts offered voluntarily to the staff in their official capacity are regarded as gifts to the Company and they should not be accepted without permission. By default, staff should decline the offer if the acceptance could be perceived as against the interest of the SUPERLIT, or that of society, or lead to complaints of bias or impropriety.

Principle 10: Conflict of Interest

A conflict of interest situation arises when the “private interests” of the staff compete or conflict with the interests of the Company. “Private interests” means both the financial and personal interests of the staff or those of their connections including: family members and other close affiliates; personal friends; the clubs and societies to which they belong; and any person to whom they owe a favor or are obligated in any way.

Staff should avoid using their official position or any information made available to them in the course of their duties to benefit themselves, their affiliates or any other persons with whom they have personal or social ties. They should avoid putting themselves in a position that may lead to an actual or perceived conflict of interest with the SUPERLIT.

Failure to avoid or declare any conflict of interest may give rise to criticism of favoritism, abuse of authority or even allegations of corruption.

In particular, staff involved in the procurement process should declare conflict of interest if they have beneficial interest in any company which is being considered for selection as the Company supplier of goods or services.

When called upon to deal with matters of the Company for which there is an actual or perceived conflict of interest, the staff member should make a declaration in writing to the ethics officer. He should then abstain from dealing with the matter in question or follow the instruction of the ethics officer who may reassign the task to other staff.

Principle 11: Misuse of Official Position

Staff who misuses their official position for personal gains or to favor their relatives or friends are liable to disciplinary action or even prosecution. Examples of misuse include a staff member responsible for the selection of suppliers giving undue favor or leaking information to his/her relative's company with a view to giving away an undue advantage.

Principle 12: Handling of Classified or Proprietary Information

Staff is not allowed to disclose any classified or exclusive information to anybody without authorization. Staff who have access to or are in control of such information should at all times provide adequate safeguards to prevent its abuse or misuse. Examples of misuse include disclosure of information in return for monetary rewards, or use of information for personal interest. It should also be noted that unauthorized disclosure of any personal data may result in a breach of the applicable legislation on privacy.

Principle 13: Property of the Company

Staff given access to any property of the SUPERLIT should ensure that it is properly used for the purpose of conducting the Company's business. Misappropriation of the property for personal use or resale is strictly prohibited.

Principle 14: Outside Employment

Employees who wish to take up paid outside work, including those on a part-time basis, must seek the written (date and signed) permission and guidance from the ethics officer before accepting the job. Approval will not be given if the outside work is considered to be in conflict with the interest and values of the corporation.

Principle 15: Compliance with the Code

It is the personal responsibility of every staff member to understand and comply with the Code of Conduct. Higher ranked employees should ensure that their subordinates understand and comply with the standards and requirements stated in the Code. Any doubts of interpretation or problems encountered, as well as any suggestions for improvement, should be addressed to the ethics officer for consideration and advice.

Any staff member who violates any provision of the Code will be subject to disciplinary action. In cases of suspected corruption or other criminal offences, a report will be made to the appropriate authorities.

Principle 16: Sanctions

SUPERLIT can take prompt and appropriate remedial action in response to violations of the Code. Any employee who engages in conduct prohibited by the Code as determined by the ethics officer will be subject to discipline actions and sanctions in accordance with the labor law.

Once a complaint has been placed, the ethics officer will initially analyze it and s/he may meet privately with the applicant to understand the facts surrounding the issue. Following a fact-finding phase, an investigative meeting could be held with the employee alleged of the violation, to further ascertain the facts and receive observations.

The decision should be issued in writing (date and signed), indicating a summary of the facts, reference to the specific violation and motivations.

The sanction may be under the form of:

- Warning;
- Private or public letter of reprimand;
- Transfer to other tasks or unit;
- Suspension from duties;
- Termination or removal.

Principle 17: Reporting

Employees have a responsibility to promptly report to the Company any violation of the Code. The SUPERLIT shall put in place an appropriate mechanism (i.e. complaints/suggestion boxes, telephone, emails, etc.) as to allow employees to address communications to the ethics officer with the highest degree of trust and confidentiality.

Employees will not be disciplined or retaliated against in any way for reporting violations in good faith. Retaliation against any employee for reporting policy violations, or for testifying, assisting or participating in any manner to inspections is strictly prohibited. Any employee who believes he or she has been subjected to or has witnessed retaliation must immediately report the alleged retaliation to the ethics officer.

Principle 18: Ethics officer

The ethics officer is Human Resources Responsibel of SUPERLIT.

The ethics officer handle day-to-day compliance matters, including:

- Receiving, reviewing, investigating and resolving concerns and reports on the matters described in this Code;
- Interpreting and providing guidance on the meaning and application of this Code; and
- Reporting periodically and as matters arise to senior staff of the Company on the implementation and effectiveness of this Code and other compliance matters, and recommending any updates or amendments to this Code deemed necessary or advisable.

Principle 19: Occupational Health and Safety

SUPERLIT secures that all employees and business partners working at the Company's facilities are provided with a healthy and safe working environment in accordance to internationally recognized standards (OHSAS 18001). The Company controls hazards and takes all necessary precautionary measures against accidents and occupational diseases. All workers are systematically provided with proper and regular training to ensure that they are adequately educated on health and safety issues.

Principle 20: Environmental protection

Our aims are to minimize environmental impact, continuously improve our environmental performance and promote environmental responsibility in our culture. SUPERLIT acts and is certified in accordance to internationally recognized environmental standards (ISO 14001). We routinely audit, follow up and report on the Company's environmental performance, with particular emphasis on evaluating the potential risks of existing and future products and operations.

Appendix 1: Definition of Advantage and examples of prohibitions

“Advantage” means:

- any gift, loan, fee, reward or commission consisting of money or of any valuable security or of other property or interest in property of any description;
- any office, employment or contract;
- any payment, release, discharge or liquidation of any loan, obligation or other liability, whether in whole or in part;
- any other service, or favor, including protection from any penalty or disability incurred or apprehended or from any action or proceedings of a disciplinary, civil or criminal nature, whether or not already instituted;
- the exercise or tolerance from the exercise of any right or any power or duty; and
- any offer, undertaking or promise, whether conditional or unconditional, of any advantage within the meaning of any of the preceding paragraphs above.

Every employee commits to:

- Do not solicit, accept, offer, promise or pay a bribe either directly or through a third party. This includes “facilitation payments”.
- Do not accept transportation, travel expenses or accommodations for trips that are not business related.
- Do not offer or accept donations for parties, including going-away parties.
- Do not solicit or accept personal discounts that are not available to all employees or available to the general public.
- Do not offer or accept personal rebates or refunds that are a result of company's purchases.
- Do not offer or accept excessive or inappropriate meals or entertainment. Generally, an excessive amount would be an amount you would not normally spend on yourself.

Gifts provided should not give the appearance of unduly influencing, obligating the recipient or providing an improper advantage to the company. Gifts or entertainment should not reflect adversely on SUPERLIT or the recipient's company and the gifts should be given openly. The gift or entertainment should be accurately accounted for in the employee's expense report and on the company's books and records. If you have questions regarding whether or not to accept or offer a gift or invitation, consult with the ethics officer.